REPLY TO NOTIFICATION OF DEFECTIVE RESPONSE

Seattle, Washington 98101

November 16, 2007

TO THE COMMISSIONER FOR PATENTS:

The following is a response to the Notification of Defective Response mailed November 8, 2007, in the above-identified patent application, a copy of which is attached.

The Notification of Defective Response stated that the fifth inventor's signature was missing from the previously submitted declaration. Applicants respectfully disagree. The fifth inventor's signature was included; however, it was inadvertently written in the wrong location. In this regard, attached is a copy of the individual declarations signed by the six inventors identified in this application. For ease of execution, the declarations were separately signed by the inventors and submitted for merger in this application. The enclosed copies are submitted in the order the inventors were identified in the declaration. The inventors' signatures have been highlighted and flagged. The first, second, third, fourth, and sixth inventors signed in the appropriate location on their respective declarations, i.e., below their typed name, residence, and mailing address information. Unfortunately, the fifth inventor, Haruhiro Kikkawa, incorrectly signed below inventor Shunichi Oshima's typed name, residence, and mailing address information. Since the error is self-evident, applicants request that the previously submitted declarations be accepted. In this regard, applicants' undersigned attorney notes that all of the inventors are Japanese citizens with residences in either Hong Kong or Japan. Due to location problems, the original Declarations were separately signed. In addition to the location problems, difficulties were encountered regarding the wording of the declarations and contacting and obtaining the necessary signatures. The undersigned attorney believes it may be difficult to locate the "fifth inventor" and to obtain a further signature in the correct location on a supplemental declaration. As a result, applicants request that the minor deficiency in the originally-submitted declarations be waived and the declarations be accepted.

Respectfully submitted,
